In national news, the Student Coalition against Racism traveled to the Fleet Center where they met with the First Lady, Hillary Rodham Clinton, for the World Difference Day. Also noteworthy, the hard-working yearbook staff earned a first place award in Associated Press' national competition. Advisor Mrs. Lush and this year's editors, Meg Lush, Liz Andrews, Keri Boynes, and Carey Perkoski, spent endless hours perfecting the Northern Light.

In science, dedicated guru Mr. Vito won the Mellican award for excellent teaching. In related news, Joe Hastings made the local papers again for the highest science fair score. Joe and his project "RT-PCR Analysis of Ethylene Expression" advanced to the statewide competition.

Locally, North fans celebrated the team's fourth Super Bowl victory. Although El Niño plagued practices and games with rain, Coach Sullivan and the football players made sure that the fields were playable. In other sporting news, basketball enthusiasts were thrilled by a legendary Celtic player's visit to North High. Sam Jones met with Mr. Beaupre, Tony Calcia, and our own basketball legend, Colleen McGahan.

On the society page, we find the National Honor Society working to better our world, while the Spice Girls sing and strut to brighten it.

Throughout the year, students at NAHS exhibited their dramatic side, whether in sports, theater, or studies. Matt Feid stole the show with a dazzling touchdown run at the Super Bowl. At the end of the season, proud football players arrived in "costume" for the Lions Club banquet. In her dynamic dragon costume, Lisa Flynt stunned the spectators at the Homecoming halftime show. Resting after an action-filled half, Justin Shockro gathered his thoughts in order to dominate the opponent. Greg Plante drew laughs when he took off his glove as Will in the One Act play Festival. Jessica Davis and Samantha Einhorn provided a little "closed captioning" for the theater production. As leads in the Fall play, Meghan Connor, Katie McDowell, Elena Fertitta, and Lani Eidam, each properly tufted and poised, showed the audience how to be "Little Women." To wrap up: in the Health Department, hepatitis shots paralyzed Laura Pechonis and Jen Alam. Mark Hosmi was spared the needle by staying in the academic scene and studying.

Whether laughing over last night's South Park episode, Jerry Seinfeld's caustic wit, or Mr. Balsdasaro's teaching antics, students at NAHS certainly welcomed humor. As Bosom Buddies, Mike Bartucca and Mark Vandette showed their feminine side. With threatening glares, the Senior Sharks spread their fins and flashed their pearly whites. Junior Jets beware!! The laughs were coming fast and furiously with our own "Friends" show. The two Justins loved to party at Kim Sebastios' with all these senior girlfriends. Some people may have thought that Ms. Cobb was already batty, but she really proved it this Halloween. Everyone is laughing with Frances Haddad. Should he use his hands or his feet on this machine? These cheerleader wannabe's spent Happy Days creating the sophomore Homecoming float. Kelly Rountree demonstrated that seniors will be recycled into the real world after graduation. Bored with painting, Steph Burns turned her talents to posing for a toothpaste commercial. Maybe Matt Conley also had his thoughts on commercials with his Mr. Clean look.

As this humorous year passed by, seniors realized that times like these were passing quickly and now it was time to Change Channels. So, pick up the remote, and... move on.

Senior Class Officers: clockwise, Nick Leco, treasurer, Meghan Connor, vice president, Andrea Kurrle, president, Kate Ring, secretary.

History

In September of 1994, we entered the high school as one of the largest classes ever. Because of the strength in numbers we were not the least intimidated by the traditional "itty-bitty freshmen" label given to first year students. We knew we had both talent and depth academically, athletically, and creatively.

One of our first tasks was to elect officers and student council representatives. After we heard all the speeches and read all the campaign posters we elected Reggie Northecide, President, Stephanie Burns, Vice-President, Matt Manoogian, Treasurer, and Andrea Kurrle, Secretary. Representing us on student council were Erica Nunes, Kristin Robert and Meghan Connor. Mr. Jutras became our class advisor.

We made ourselves heard at the first pep rally of the year by winning the tug-of-war contest over the all powerful seniors. Then we threw in a second punch at the homecoming game by placing ahead of them in the float contest with our "Punt those Panthers" first-attempt float. Nikki Ajchel and Sarah Remley were elected to the Homecoming Court.

Our class had many representatives playing varsity sports as freshmen as well as participants in Science Fair, drama and band. We made our presence known in every department.

On the lighter side we worked together with the sophomores to plan and enjoy a December Social that was truly a night to remember.

From the beginning we knew that ours was a class that would be recognized for knowledge, sportsmanship and spirit.

Sophomore Year

We definitely ruled in school spirit this year!! We won every pep rally with enormous amounts of confetti and red and white balloons. Our enthusiasm was limited to the rallies and the football field, however, and not to our North float competition which we lost. Missy Andrews and Andrea Kurrle were chosen to represent us on the Homecoming Court. For the first time even boys were also elected. Our choices were Dave Reed and Nick Leco.

A new slate of officers were elected in September, President, Andrea Kurrle, Vice-President, Meghan Connor, Treasurer, Crystal Ballou, and Secretary, Kate Ring. Student Council representatives were Katie Fisher, Kristin Robert, and John Higgins. Under their leadership the sophomore class enthusiastically set about the challenging task of fundraising. We sold concessions at the junior varsity games and for the first time offered a babysitting service on the busiest shopping day of the year - the day after Thanksgiving. This event was very well attended, and many adults asked us to continue this service on a regular basis.

Once again our cooperative effort with the freshmen enabled us to have a very successful and fun-filled evening in December at our annual Social. It was the largest attendance ever and we danced under twinkling lights with both the freshmen and senior pits.

We ended our second year of high school with confidence in our conviction for continued success during the second half of our high school years.

Junior Year

We started off our first year as upperclassmen with student government elections, Andrea Kurrle was elected President, Meghan Connor, Vice-President, Kate Ring, Secretary and Nick Leco was elected as Treasurer. Our first big undertaking was the building of the homecoming float themed "juniors are standing on top of the world." Many hours were spent stuffing napkins into the chicken wire globe and a valiant effort was made by everyone involved. The jumpy juniors once again ruled the rally, sweeping the spirit contest for the second year in a row. Unfortunately all our spirit and efforts couldn't earn us more than a third place in the float contest. Despite the fact our float wasn't a huge success, we were still well represented on the homecoming court by Meghan Connor, Nick Leco, Andrea Kurrle and David Reed.

Our next task as a class was to prepare for the annual match up of the Junior Jets and the Senior Sharks. Coaches Chris O'Brien, David Reed and Matt Feid guided us with skill to a near victory. The score was close, Jets 8 - Sharks 14. The winter was slow, but we spent much time fundraising. For the second year in a row we held a babysitting day in the cafeteria. We also sold concessions at basketball games.

Finally, April came and it was time for the biggest event of the year - The Junior Prom. It was held on April 22nd at the beautiful Westin Hotel in Providence. After Andrea Kurrle was crowned queen and David Reed was named king. All guests were invited up to the dance floor to kick off the night to the prom's theme "Open Arms" by Journey.

Once again, the class of '98 had a successful and memorable year. We played an integral part in athletics and academics and we looked eagerly to the next fall when we would be in the final stretch.

Senior Year

Fall of 1994, we entered North Attleboro High School as itty bitty freshmen. A mass of nervous faces stood huddled in the lobby. Eagerly we glanced around the place we'd call home for the next 4 years. We wondered what would happen to us, what we'd become . . . an international science fair winner? A super bowl champion? a national honor student? An all-state musician? We realized the next few years would be filled with growth and change and new experiences. What we didn't realize is how fast those few years would come and go.

Fall of 1997, we embark on the last leg of our North Attleboro High School journey. The tense faces of itty bitty freshmen have melted into the sure and mature grins of super seniors. We quickly fell into the school year routine. Senior officers were elected. Andrea Kurrle to President, Meghan Connor, Vice-President, Kate Ring, Secretary and Nick Leco, Treasurer. The first order of business to be addressed was switching the dates of the junior and senior proms. After meetings with junior officers and Mr. Whitty, it was agreed to change the senior prom to April. Our last homecoming was soon upon us and a small group of seniors gathered in the cold, rainy hours of Thanksgiving morning to assemble our homecoming float. Bowl em over Big Red. We were literally blown away by the competition on that blustery November day - pulling in a memorable 4th place finish, but our spirit shined through on and off the field. The senior Rocketeers led their team to a victory over Attleboro and Andrea Kurrle led her court of Meghan Connor and Kate Ring. King David Reed represented the senior guys along with Mark Vandette and Kyle Vandegiesen. The senior girls then prepared to face off against the Junior Jets in the annual powderpuff game. All our preparation was in vain, unfortunately the game never happened. It was now winter and our last year was nearly half over. We held our annual, "Babysitting Day" fundraiser in the cafeteria. We also prepared ourselves for the hectic spring that was swiftly approaching. Basketball games, track, wrestling and gymnastic meets and the one-act play festival carried us to spring. Exciting days were ahead and April 21st was one of the most exciting of all. Our senior prom was held at the elegant Biltmore Hotel in Providence. The 17th floor grand ballroom was host to our class who chose the very appropriate theme "On the Turning Away" by Pink Floyd. Queen Andrea Kurrle, and King Mark Vandette led the guests in the first dance.

We sit here today, once again, a mass of eager, nervous faces. We glance around at our peers. An international science fair winner, a super bowl champion, an all-state musician. Our new experiences have become old memories. Our journey together is over and there are separate paths each one of us must take, whether it be college, military, or the work force. One thing is for sure though, no matter which path we choose our memories will always be here at North Attleboro High School.

Please tune into your TV tonight as the 1998 Northern Light Yearbook broadcasts the Daytime Emmys. These cute and innocent freshmen faces will now receive their diplomas and academic awards to highlight their days at North Attleboro High School. We would like to thank the students, teachers and parents for their unending commitment to challenge and support all academic and extracurricular endeavors.

The junior class will now enter the spotlight with numerous achievements. They will strive to earn awards with more prestige as the juniors embark on their senior year.

The sophomores and freshmen will wait in the academic audience, applauding their fellow actors and waiting for their turn to be recognized.

Movin' On Up

Juniors - Class of 1999

Our Junior Class has grown closer throughout our years together. We support one another in personal as well as in group achievements, such as drama, music, clubs, and sports. Our Big Red Spirit presents itself during rallies and competitions, especially the Homecoming Float Competition, in which we placed second.

The officers love fundraising and have already hosted the Second Annual Homecoming Dance, run the basketball concession stand, and treated the class to a magical evening of food, music, and dancing at the Junior Prom. Many more events are on the way to raise money for this energetic class.

We manage to have fun but still work hard to achieve our many desired goals. We represent NAHS on the Honor Roll, emphasizing our need to succeed. Our trust in one another and strong leadership allows us to conquer our fears and strive to be people others can look up to. The Junior Class of '99 has united into a group that will remain friends for a lifetime.

In the Heat of the Night

The Junior Prom

The evening of February 17, 1998 took off as limos flooded the entrance of the Marriot Hotel. Juniors, all dressed up for the occasion, flowed into the ballroom excited to begin their long-awaited prom. With all the pictures finally taken and the dinner enjoyed, everyone was ready to hit the dance floor. The night's prom king and queen, Kurt Franklin and Maura Sullivan, led the crowd onto the dance floor with the theme song "One". Time flew by, and before anyone knew it, the evening had come to a close. The many prom-goers left with a picture frame and many unforgettable memories.

Millennium

Sophomores - Class of 2000

Our high school life really took off this year. The sophomore class showed its school spirit and pride by blowing away the competition at the fall spirit contests. We also participated in the homecoming float contest. All our hard work and long hours in the Bartlett's garage paid off when we walked away with a first place victory.

With over 300 students attending, the social was a huge success and a magical evening for all. Having a great social was just one of our goals for this year. We also had sophomore athletes on many varsity teams. Sophomores also made a showing in academics. The sophomores came up with some outstanding science fair projects which received many honorable mentions and even a few awards. We have proved that the class of 2000 is a well - rounded class, and we will continue to contribute as much as we can to this school for the rest of our high school career.

Held on December 12, 1997, the Freshmen/Sophomore Social was an unforgettable evening. Over four hundred students were welcomed into the cafeteria, decorated in gold trimmings and festive holiday decorations. The mood was set right from the start of the dance. The dance floor was flooded with not only freshmen and sophomores, but also juniors and seniors. Everyone danced the night away to the upbeat music provided by the disc jockey. The Freshmen/Sophomore Social will not easily be forgotten.

Welcome Freshmen - Class of 2001

As the class of 2001, the freshmen class had a great first year at the high school. School spirit was high this year, and the freshmen class was well represented on many varsity sports teams and in other school activities. With a record number of people attending, the Freshmen/Sophomore Social was a great success! The float designed by many participating freshmen also brought the class together with another accomplishment.

Changing CHANNELS

Ninety-four Senior athletes changed the channels each season to excel in North Attleboro sports. As freshmen these seniors performed above the rest to earn many spots at the Varsity level. Dominant in all areas of play, the largest number of senior athletes ever earned the All-Sport trophy once again for Big Red. With such a winning attitude, these athletes recorded historical marks over their four years. A Super Bowl title, State Wrestling Champs, two year Cheerleading State Champs', Hockomock crowns in track, basketball, gymnastics, tennis and all state tournament finalist.

Scholar athletes will continue their reign next year carrying on that North Pride tradition in collegiate competition. That North Pride, that is evident in all aspects of the game, whether it is wearing the Super Bowl ring, sprinting down the court or jumping over the hurdle, will always remain.

Stepping In

With a strong group of Seniors and young players, the team maintained a season of "Friends".

This years' Field Hockey team was built upon Senior leadership. With the absence of head coach Mrs. Charette, at any time the veterans had to pull the team together. Only four returning starters were on the team and the goal of returning to the tournament for their third straight year looked hard to reach. Meg Lush and Kristin Robert led the young team, ending a season with a record of 9-7-2.

Starting since their sophomore year, the experienced group of Lush, Robert, Sarah Giambanco, and Meghan Connor pushed their team into the state tournament once again. With a new J.V. Coach, Becky Fisher, the senior aspect of the team was a most important ingredient to the team's chemistry. Young faces took the field, as four sophomores and one freshman helped the battles in such games as Foxboro and Mansfield. The season was very unpredictable; at K.P., the team made a huge comeback to win on the road.

Starting with a new field, a young team, and a traveling coach, the season was out of the norm. No matter what the problem, the strong sense of team kept them on a winning path. Playing the number two seed team in Division I, Varsity would not let down without a couple bumps and bruises.

Through such a hectic schedule captains Meg and Kristin always kept it fun. With wet practices and dance parties on the bus, the sticks always hit the grass with pride.

'Mo Goals Mo Points': Varsity gets psyched to take on an opponent.

Rebuilding

With many new faces the "What would you do?" attitude filled the team.

After losing eight starters from last year's 12-4-2 squad, the boys' soccer team still had a positive outlook on the season. Despite losing the opener at Foxboro 1-0 on a penalty kick, and having several chances to score, the team then evened its record by crushing Bishop Feehan 4-1. However, North played seven of its games on the road and did not manage to recover from early-season road losses.

Highlights included a 1-1 tie at perennial powerhouse King Philip and a 3-0 drubbing of Foxboro under the lights at Community Field. While enduring a 2-11-5 season, each player kept their spirits' and intensity levels high.

Next year's team will be in good hands. Co-captain elects Mark Roland and Ross Downing will provide valuable leadership in the midfield. In the back, Matt Cochrane should keep everything organized and should be a mainstay at sweeper. Will Miner will be a constant scoring threat up front and Paul Waznis will be a versatile player. Dan Carreiro's presence on the field speaks for itself. They should receive solid contributions from all classes and promise to be a very efficient team. Hopefully, Coach Jim Stapleton will return for yet another year. His knowledge of the game and enthusiasm on the sideline will be important ingredients for success.

Matt Manoogian

Goal Kick: Senior Captain Matt Manoogian sends another kick out to half field.

Nice Move! Senior Jesse Johnson eludes his opponent.

Leadership: Senior Captain
Emily Gordon clears the ball away from danger.

Quick Feet

Reaching several goals, next year's team will have to do little "Home Improvement"

Under the guidance of a new coach following our most successful season ever, we were apprehensive of what the upcoming season would bring. It turned out that it brought a record of 8-10 and a team that fell just one game short of the state tournament.

Although not all of our goals were reached we had several highlights throughout the season, one of which was our tremendous victory over long-time rival Attleboro with a score of 6-1. With that win we kept the Blue/Red Cup here for yet another year.

Everyone on the team contributed no matter where they were on the field. We had 26 goals and 8 assists from Sophomore Tanya Mello and 13 goals and 7 assists from Senior co-captain Kim Sebastiao in the front line. We also had outstanding performances on the defensive end by Senior co-captain Emily Gordon, and Juniors Nichole Masse, Tiffany Blais and Heidi Charlebois along with Michaela Ellis in goal.

Although the team will lose three seniors next year they will still have the experience and talent of the underclassmen. Those underclassmen include Sun Chronicle and Hockomock All-Stars Tanya Mello and Junior Casey Finnegan as well as several other skilled athletes. Under the direction of next season's captains, Casey Finnegan and Kathleen Rogers, we look forward to seeing a season of great success in 1998.

Desire

With "Family Ties" on the Golf team the young squad was able to finish with a successful season.

Playing on the links of Locust Valley, the North Attleboro Golf Team compiled a record of 8-6-2 in 1997. The team led by junior Ed Hunt and freshman brother Bobby Hunt qualified for the Hockomock golf tournament for the first time in two years. Both Hunt brothers were selected as Sun-Chronicle All-Stars and Ed was also named to the Boston Globe All-Star team. Although without seniors, the team played with immense desire, determination, and etiquette which allowed North to win five straight matches at the end of the season. These victories included exciting triumphs over such tough Hockomock foes as Canton and Stoughton.

Also contributing to the team were juniors Blake Sigman, Matt LaFratta, Sean Raposa, and Brendon Poirier. Newcomers Sean Lenahan, Chris Tower, and Thomas Reiter, a German exchange student and "Jesper Parnevik" of the team proved to be great assets.

Look for lower scores and more wins next year as North will be aiming for the Hockomock league Title. With an abundance of seniors on the team next year, North Golf will continue its crowd-pleasing and sportsmanlike play. North will be sure to have its "A game" next year as it once again will take to the links at Locust Valley to smother its opposition.

Jumping High

The Volleyball team leaves a "Guiding Light" for future seasons.

The 1997 Girls Volleyball team had a very successful season and was looking to make its fourth straight tournament appearance. Although their record of 8-12 left them two games shy of making that appearance, the team gave teams like Bishop Feehan and Holliston, whom North Attleboro has never beaten, some very tough competition. With a roster that included only two players with previous varsity experience, Carey Perkosi and Kim Carvalho, and two players who had never played before at North Attleboro, Heidi Burningham and Kasey Walters, the team worked hard the entire season to make vast improvements as the season went on. The J.V. squad also had a very successful season proving to their new coach that together they could work hard, have fun and achieve their goals.

Under the leadership of their captains for next season, Jen Elliot and Sun Chronicle All-Star Stacy Brunell, the team looks forward to next season to be another season of fun, improvement, and success.

Running To Repeat

With an experienced team of "Golden Girls" the Cross Country season ended successfully.

This year's Boys Cross Country was lead by a strong group of Senior veterans. With such a large team the Senior leadership factor played important role in the teams chemistry. Mr. Guthrie's vocal support kept the smiles on the faces of the semi-successful team. A big team such as the 1998 team, is bound to have future winning records.

With Senior co-captains Jamie McHoul and Sarah Bonome and Coach Dwight Estey, the Girls' Cross Country team finished the season with a record of 4 and 4.

With a gain of two new seniors and several other underclassmen the team filled the gaps left by last year's graduates. Long distance runs, speed workouts and endless grueling hill workouts physically prepared us for the challenges that we faced throughout the season.

After losing our first two meets to Oliver Ames and Sharon, the team worked together to bring success to the rest of our season.

Although the team will be losing five valuable seniors, with the guidance of the 1998 co-captains Nicole Collupy and Alicia Dawes, the team shall again be led to victory.

No Easy Way Out

With 28 Seniors from the class of '98, Big Red had left another legacy.

The 1997 Red Rocketeer football team kept the winning tradition alive this season, posting an undefeated 8-0 league record and a 11-1 overall record. Under the leadership of co-captains Dave Reed, Chris O'Brien, and Matt Parker and the direction of first-year head Coach Paul Sullivan, the Rocketeers became the sixth team in North Attleboro history to earn a berth in the Division III Super Bowl and only the fourth team to be crowned state champions.

Living by their adopted creed, "No Easy Way Out", Big Red opened up with defending Division I state champions, Xaverian. North met defeat despite an outstanding effort by the defense. Out of the fire of that hot Saturday afternoon in Westwood the steel of this North team would be forged. Eleven straight victories would follow.

Confidence was built with victories over Bishop Feehan and Stoughton as arch rival Mansfield loomed ahead. Thunder and lightning struck literally and figuratively at stormy Memorial Park. The only thing capable of delaying Big Red was Mother Nature. North exploded to a 35-0 halftime lead and never looked back. Four more victories followed setting up the inevitable clash with the Warriors of Foxboro. Once again the elements played a role as the "biggest game in the state" was delayed until Tuesday. Citizens of the community came together to celebrate the official naming of the high school field to long time coach and athletic director Ray Beaupre. Twenty eight seniors came together to make their dreams of youth come true under a beautiful, blue November sky. Exhibiting the quiet confidence that had become their trademark, North proceeded to dismantle a powerful Foxboro offensive attack as it secured a super bowl berth with a 31-7 victory.

The 77th Thanksgiving Day game with Attleboro was played with the traditional fervor and emotion on both sides. Once again, in this year of El Nino, weather had a role to play. Winds gusting at 50 M.P.H. wreaked havoc with both offenses. A swarming defense led North to a 14-0 victory.

Big Red journeyed to the quaint surroundings of Bentley College in search of their ultimate goal, a super bowl championship versus the highly touted Big Blue of Swampscott. Dominating the entire first quarter with an efficient ground game North used up the clock but failed to score. A touchdown late in the first half put North ahead. Touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters secured a 20-0 lead. A furious finish by Swampscott failed and a dream had become a reality. Big Red was simply the best!

The 28 Seniors from the class of '98 had left a legacy. Dedicated to the proposition that there is no easy way out, molded by the tradition of LTD, and immersed in team spirit, they became one of the most dominant teams in Big Red history. After the opening day loss at Xaverian, this Big Red machine would never again fall behind as it marched through the Hockomock League and on to a Super Bowl Championship.

California Dreams

"We gave more than we asked and we received more than we dreamt"

The 1997/98 Competition/Basketball Cheerleaders proved to be phenomenal once again. The squad of twenty was led by Coach Patti Johnson, Asst. Coach Julie Nardelli, and Co-captains Jen Droney and Val Boyer. With six incredible seniors, five returning juniors and nine eager sophomores, the experienced team pushed themselves to victory time and time again. The pressure was immense as this team aimed to retain their State Champion title. Endless hours of hard work and dedication made their dream possible. They achieved perfection and ended their season successfully.

The returning State Champions began their season with confidence and enthusiasm. At their opening competition the Red Rocketeers brought home a first place trophy at Warwick

Vets High School. Certainly their accomplishments did not end there. They continuously climbed the ladder to defeat major rivals. At the 51st David Prouty Competition the squad performed flawlessly and earned another first place trophy. The following day the committed team returned to the mat at the Regional Competition and once again put on a great show!

Their main incentive now was to regain their title. The respected team entered the State Competition with high expectations. The Rocketeers were competing against the best teams in the state. They knew they would have to perform another dynamic routine. They did just that! The back to back State Champion team once again made their dream come true

Boy meets world

Boys Basketball is on the rise back to the top of the Hockomock

The 1997-1998 Boys' Basketball team rebounded from the previous year's 4-16 record. They doubled the amount of wins, totaling eight, and also saw the emergence of some young players. Unfortunately, they could not reach the state tournament in Don Johnson's final year as head coach.

This year's team was young and exciting. Co-captains Andrew Poland and Matt Manoogian along with workhorse and crowd favorite David Reed, were the only seniors. Every game throughout the season was close. The most memorable contests were a victory at heavily favored Sharon, an up and down thriller against Attleboro, and a season-ending thrashing of Bishop Feehan.

Next year's team will likely be one of the toughest in the league. They definitely have at least two luxuries on their side, the return of three starters and height. Also, the underclassmen have the ability to contribute a great deal to the team. This year's seniors would like to wish next year's team the best of luck. They will be very successful under the leadership of new coach Chris Perron and Co-captains elect Sean Mulkerrins and Tom Glynn.

Hang time

With experienced Seniors and promising Freshman the team pulled together another successful season.

The 1998 Girls Basketball team was filled with a lot of character to bring them back to the State tournament. With new Head Coach Steve Giambanco, this squads attitude was set on the right path towards winning. Losing a lot of power, they had to take control, using every member on the team. The four Seniors all contributed to having fun while working towards the goal of States. McGahan, Lush, Malette and Sebastiao always livened up the court, with humor and skill. Captain McGahan, a four year starter carried the team. Always getting the job done, she paved the way for younger players like Pond, Shockro and Vine. Lone Junior Tedesco stepped into a big role as a scoring threat with many rebounds. Sophomores Mandeville and Fesik continued to add that extra touch, with a big three or a great take down.

Big Games such as Foxboro,

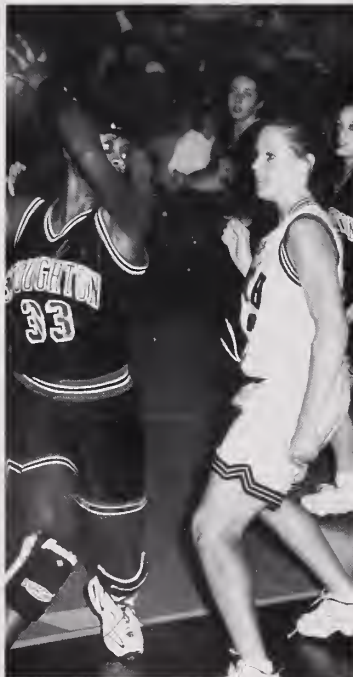

Franklin and King Philip had the crowd on the edge of their seats as North would try and buzz past the competition. Against Attleboro everyone contributed in fighting against the rivals; the bench was always a big help with cheers and points. Playing King Philip in the tournament was the biggest game, with a sold out crowd. The entire team needed to chip in. During that game Coach "G" could see a promising team next year, by the great play of some like, Christy Mandeville and Laura Shockro.

On and off the court the team worked well together. With a thousand point scorer and a Chaos offense the team danced their way through a great season. Coach Giambanco, in his same outfit, will be looking for a Hock' title in the future of these young stars. Whereas, the Seniors will be looking for Colleen McGahan on her Division I St. Joseph's team.

American Gladiators

A strong group of Seniors leads North to a championship season.

This indoor season was led by senior captains Matt Feid, Chad Flickinger, and Mark Vandette. After losing a coaching legend, the team picked up head coach Derek Heber and assistant coach Scott Holster.

The team's scoring was dominated by seniors with a few underclassmen scoring pts. for the team. With old veterans returning and some rookies, North Attleboro showed they were a force in the Hockomock league.

The team suffered it's only loss early in the season by a marginal 2 pts. From then on no one looked back as they ran over all their opponents throughout the rest of the season.

At the Hockomock League Meet Championships, North again came out on top. This win was fueled by victorious four league champs Matt Feid, Pat Kelleher, Ryan McNally, and Ken Scanzio. The team also sent many athletes to the State Class Meet where a few qualified for the State finals. After that North sent a relay team to the New England Meet. North Attleboro also helped represent Massachusetts at the National Meet.

Next year looks to be promising with Adam Norige and Mark Roland being named captains for the 98'-99' season.

Step by Step

With strong guidance the Girl's Winter Track team stayed on a dedicated path.

The 1997-98 Indoor Track Team endured a successful season under the direction of returning coach Jason Feid, assistant coach Scott Holster and tri-captains Sarah Bonome, Courtney Carvalho and Jamie McHoul. The Team's dedication and hard work enabled them to finish the season with a record of 2-6.

The team took on an early commitment of dedication and set forth a number of goals that they worked to accomplish throughout the season. Despite many hardships that the team faced they always put forth their best effort and from the inspiring words of coach Jason Feid,

The team gave a strong showing at the Hockomock league championship meet. Casey Finnegan claimed all Hockomock Status, while Sarah Bonome and Casey Finnegan were named All Sun Chronicle selections.

Congratulations to the newly elected co-captains Jen Bachand and Stacy Fitzpatrick, who will continue to lead the team to another successful season. Thanks to everyone for a wonderful and memorable season and good luck to the team of 1998-1999.

With a new Head Coach North wrestlers win back to back.

The North Attleboro wrestling team had a remarkable season, despite some major off-season changes. With Steve Laskey stepping down from his head coaching position, Coach Wayne Griffin took the reigns with style.

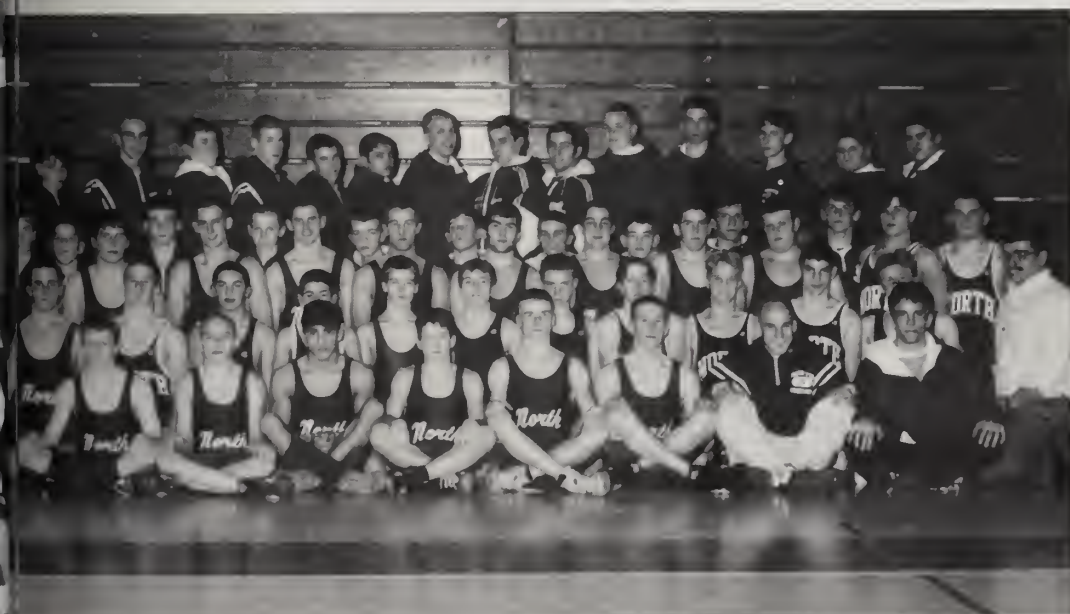

The Rocketeer grapplers had a stellar conference record, going undefeated in the league. Big Red fans watched North defeat perennial contender Foxboro and tie league favorite Franklin, both at home. North, although Co-Champions with Franklin this year, hold title honors for two consecutive years.

North closed the dual meet season with a 12-3-2 record. They competed in five tournaments in the area, capturing many individual medals.

The postseason arrived and the Rocketeers stepped it up. They dominated the Division II South Sectional tournament and took home first place as a team. Qualifying ten wrestlers for the State meet, North finished second and were awarded State finalist honors.

The Transformers

A young group of experienced gymnasts take North on a Quantum Leap.

This years gymnastic's team was the most successful North Attleboro High School has ever had. The team was led by captains Amy Daniels and Alicia Tibbetts. With a season record of 11-2, we were Co-Hockomock champs for the first time.

Going into the season feeling extremely strong, we prepared for what was going to be the best season in history. Our first meet was against Attleboro. We felt really good going into the opponents gym and even though we did not beat them we had done exceptionally well.

Throughout the season things kept getting better and the meet we were waiting for was coming. Canton, Hock Champs for the last 10 years, was our meet to determine who was to hold this years title of Hockomock Champions. Both going in undefeated, we lost by a minimal amount. Now it was time to work. We practiced hard for weeks until it was time to meet again. The odds were good; home meet, team in excellent condition and winning attitudes. When the scores were adding up at the end of the meet our team went up in cheer. We were the first NAHS gymnastics' team ever to win the Hockomock Title.

Now we were on our way to Sectionals ranking 6th of 20. Only 13 girls went but that was not a problem, things went well. Competing all night for a place in States, we were exhausted. Four out of 20 teams were to go to States and they were all good. We missed States by .3 of a point, but were excited because we came in fifth and beat Canton by 6 points.

With the successful season we had this year, the outlook for next year looks promising. Congratulations to next years captains, Maura Sullivan and Elizabeth Frederick. Good Luck to next years team and make sure you carry this year's success with you next year.

Veterans

Experienced Seniors lead the young team on a "Future Quest"

The year's baseball team kept its fans on the edge of their seats. They flirted with a tournament berth throughout the entire season before finally getting their tenth win over Attleboro in the 19th game of the year. The 10-10 record and a first round tournament loss were not indicative of just how talented this team was. The squad posted impressive wins over Franklin, Attleboro, Sharon, and league champion, Oliver Ames.

Other notable performances were Jay LeBlanc's no-hitter vs. Foxboro and Jared Perkiski's two shut-out victories over Canton in must-win situations.

This year, the team welcomed new JV coach Doug Weldon who replaced former coach Paul Sullivan. John Harris was also a new face in the dug-out.

Next Spring the team will have to work hard but should still have a great year. With the leadership of coach Jack Johnson and co-captains Brendan Poirier and David Botts, another tourney appearance is on the horizon. Underclassmen such as Jack Harris, Jared Perkiski and Steve Donley will also contribute.

Improvement

The 1998 team marked a "Turning Point" in North Softball.

Although our record may not show it, our team greatly improved in its 1998 season. Our 5-15 record was an improvement from our previous season's record of 3-17 and totals the most wins the North Attleboro softball team has seen in four years.

Under the guidance of our new coach, Bill Wallace, we buckled down and became better ballplayers with each practice that went by. With five seniors leading this young team we aimed at keeping the "no blood" mentality on the field. Our improvement showed in the second half of the season when we defeated last year's league champion and this year's contender, Franklin 3-2. The biggest upset of the season by far, teams around the league realized that we were not going to roll over and play dead. With so much talent the immature team had to learn how to work together.

Team captains Kim Sebastiao and Jen Fitzpatrick hand down their reign to Jen Elliot and Stacy Brunell hoping that they will see the team to another year of vast improvement and fun. The big question is who will do the book?

Kim Sebastiao

Strong Leadership: Senior Captain Jen Fitzpatrick awaits the play in her ready stance.

Boys Track stayed "Between The Lines" to capture another league title.

With Matt Feid, Ryan McNally and Chad Flickenger as captains of the 198 Boys Spring Track team, they soared through the Hockomock capturing the league title for North. With strength in all events, Big Red always had a man in the number one spot. Coach Perron and Coach Herber can see a promising group amongst their underclassmen. Sixteen seniors led North on its quest for the undefeated Hockomock slot.

Many members of the team qualified for all post season events. The relay teams kept on the move, with most of the team breaking records. Setting records for the underclassmen to reach keeps the North squad hustling on their quick feet.

Young Feet

The track "Travelers" are on the move with willing underclassmen.

With Sarah Bonome, Missy Andrews and Caitlin Torre as Captains of the 1998 Girls Spring Track team, their feet hit the track with pride and energy. A large group of experienced seniors led the squad to a good year overall. Many stand outs on the team helped create a certain level for the North girls to reach for. Coach Estey and Coach Holster can see many record breakers amongst their young team. With strength in all events, including hurdle, shot put and jumps, Big Red can continue their race to the top of the Hockomock next year.

Such a large team can break all the boundaries to reach their goal. A promising group of Juniors can head North's team next year. Setting all kinds of new records this year, the girls will have to work their hardest to accomplish new scores. With such a strong league in the Hockomock it's an all out race for North Girls to cross the finish line first.

Close Knit

"The Incredible Hulk" shines through on the small squad.

Captain John Higgins led his team to the State Tournament. With such a small team the North squad scared the Hockomock league. Ryan Kelley owned the number one slot as the best singles player on Coach Woods team. John Higgins, the experienced Senior, did a solid job at the number two singles. The third singles was always a toss up between Charlie Sweeney and Jake Hergt. Doubles tennis was played by the remainder of the team, shuffling around for the right combination. North could still get the job done and qualify for the State Tournament.

A small group of promising players hope to bring North back to the Tournament next year. Falling to Needham in their final match 0-5, the boys, know they can bounce back next year and take a swing at league title. Strong Foundation

A winning record tells the competition to "Dream On"

With s strong varsity lineup consisting of five seniors and two juniors, the girls tennis team captured second place in the Hockomock league. Captain Kristin Robert once again dominated first singles and Captain Carey Perkoski did equally as well in second singles. Junior Michaela Ellis continued her run as third singles. Senior Keri Boynes and Junior Coryne Preston paired up as first doubles this year while Seniors Liz Andrews and Kerry Kennedy enjoyed the second doubles slot.

An outstanding J.V. team will move up next year with the absence of the five seniors players. The incoming freshmen this year showed great promise as did the second year sophomores.

After disappointing losses to Canton and Sharon, the team fought back to beat those teams and all the rest.

The season ended with a loss to Yarmouth in the tournament but everyone left as improved players. The team voted Kelley Robertson as most improved and Missy Nelson as most contributing player. Michaela Ellis and Coryne Preston will serve as next year's captains.

Setting New Records

The Class of 1998 was the "Sports Center" for the Hockomock League

Fisher Kelley Banquet was held May 27th at Folan's Restaurant. Ninety five athletes and their parents came together for a great meal as well as recognition of 40% of this senior class who participated at all levels in 21 different sports. Tony Calcia acted as master of ceremonies introducing Mr. Paul Sullivan, head Football Coach, who gave a brief history of the Fisher Kelley Banquet.

Diane Dalton, a star basketball player from the '80's, gave a wonderful speech with some great memories of Mr. Pickering's enthusiasm as a fan. Each athlete received a plaque, while three sport athlete's received watches.

The M.I.A.A. Outstanding Sportsmanship award went to Jen Fitzpatrick, Kim Sebastiao, Meg Lush, Andrew Philips, Aaron Chabot, and Pat Kelleher. The most prestigious Athletic award, the Dr. Maurice Grant award, this year went to Matt Manoogian, Soccer goalie, basketball player and in-fielder for the baseball team, and three sport captain.

This class again kept North Attleboro "on the map" by bringing home the Hockomock All Sport trophy. This particular class was able to dominate on the gridiron and win a Super Bowl, and moreover, send more teams on to tournaments than any class in recent history.

TACA: Short Stop/ Outfielder Kim Sebastiao will head to New York next year to continue her softball play.

From acting to video, Madonna Manor to Lanore's Pantry, students involved themselves with activities in and out of school this year. Many students accomplished these feats in addition to working jobs, playing sports, and tough academic schedules.

Academically, students joined Math League, created science projects, participated in a mock wedding, learned to master a computer, and ruled Latin exams. Creatively, they painted, wrote poetry, acted in and ran dramatic performances, played the clarinet, drums, guitar, flute, and sang in the chorus. As volunteers students entertained the elderly, held food drives, raised money at a rock-a-thon, chaperoned YMCA dances, sold candy, and ran a blood drive. SADD members tried to prevent accidents. Peerleaders promoted harmony and good decisions. SCAR pushed equality and SAC encouraged service.

Students this year exhibited great diversity and talent as well as dedication to their activities.

Cheers!

With swirling confetti, deafening screams, and waves of red and white, North Attleboro students cheered on their football players. The band's peppy playing, setting the mood, this year's Homecoming/Thanksgiving rally showed the spirit of all the students.

While the freshmen fought hard to show spirit for their new school, the Sophomores smashed a two year winning streak by beating the Seniors at the spirit contest. The Juniors jazzed up the rally with signs and confetti. The Seniors elected Dave Reed and Andrea Kurrle as Homecoming King and Queen, as well as Kyle Vandegiesen, Mark Vandette, Meghan Connor, and Kate Ring to the court.

As soon as everything quieted down, the Senior Football Player Slideshow began. Everyone laughed as they saw the football players and cheerleaders as little children. The Seniors reminisced to the familiar tune, "Rocketman".

With the rally behind them, North students focused their attention on the big game against Attleboro. The crowds fought the biting wind to see the game. The cheerleaders encouraged the players with smiles and yells. The band demonstrated hard work through their halftime show. This year's show included songs from Miss Saigon and an appearance by Lisa Flint as a dragon. As Attleboro succumbed to North's power for the 21st time in 26 years, the football players topped off this exciting weekend.

Roses are red: Freshmen Erin McDavitt and Alicia Holmes love being elected to their first Homecoming court.

Name that tune: Senior Beth Heile entertains the crowd with smooth sounds.

Blast off: The Red Rocketeer cheerleaders pump up the school the game.

In a daze: In the midst of all the confetti, Corrine Lamontagne and Mary-Beth Rioux look all too anxious to leave.

Happy Days: The freshmen enter the world of rallies as they drown each other in confetti.

Behaving Badly: The Senior football players laugh at a fellow player.

North Pride: Junior Erica Sargent announces the name of her favorite football player.

Da Da Da: North trumpet players captivate the audience.

Tomorrow's World

The Peer Leaders work to educate tomorrow's world about solving problems and working together.

This year was a very successful one for the Peer Leaders. We started off the year with a full day of training. This was to enable us to deal with various situations inside and outside school. Throughout the day, many guest speakers informed the group of issues like seatbelt safety, violence within relationships, and drinking and driving. The guests gave many hotlines to call and people to contact with in the community.

Another significant event that went on this year was the annual Rock-a-Thon. Each Peer Leader recieved pledges and rocked in a chair all night long. After hours and hours without sleep, we raised a large sum of money. The money raised went to aid Kyle Quigley and his fight with leukemia.

The Peer Leaders had a great year and we hope to do the same for years to come. Thank you to all the Seniors and good luck.

America's Most Wanted

SADD once again emphasizes the deadly dangers of drunk drivers.

This year, SADD had an all time high of 180 dedicated members. With so much enthusiasm, many fundraisers and trips were held. SADD continued the tradition of tying red ribbons on car antennas at a football game. This act reminded people of the dangers of drinking and driving.

The most popular fundraiser, held in December, presented prom gowns and tuxedos to parents, friends, and teachers at the annual SADD Fashion Show. The upper-classmen put on a beautiful show, complete with stylish hairdos done by a local salon.

The prison trip once again held everyone's attention as inmates shared their experiences with crime and prison life. This trip pointed out the dangers of drinking and drugs since most of the inmates realized that these substances played a large part in their actions.

SADD once again participated in the Bowl-a-Thon at North Bowl to raise money for the Big Brothers/ Big Sisters' organization of Attleboro. Many excited bowlers raised money for a worthy cause.

SADD played a large part in the students' lives this year. The participation greatly increased others' awareness of the consequences of destructive decisions. The club would like to thank Mrs. Schaltegger for her dedication to SADD for many years. She will be greatly missed next year!

Are you being served?

The Student Awareness Club donates their time to serve the community.

The Student Awareness Club had a very productive year. With president, Crystal Ballou, Vice President Stacey Philibert, Secretary Katie Fisher, and Treasurer Christine Truffa working together, many club activities were planned. Our club advisor Ms. Cosme also had a large part in our success. Throughout the course of the year, the volunteers continued their visits to Madonna Manor, helping the elderly with baking, crafts, or painting the women's fingernails. The volunteers also chaperoned YMCA dances and ran the concession stand. For Christmas, we collected food and money, making five large food baskets which we donated to the town. Members also created the Rainbow of Giving. By donating money, students and teachers got their names put on a heart which hung on the walls of the cafeteria. Overall, we are very pleased with the outcome of this year. Josh Gagne, our Junior officer also helped us out a lot during the year. We know we are leaving the club in good hands next year.

A question of equality

SCAR strives to promote equality in and out of school.

This year, the Student Coalition Against Racism has been very busy and very productive. In December, a group of members attended a conference at the Fleet Center, and aside from holding several meetings, SCAR also received many awards and even established a web site.

At the Team Harmony conference at the Fleet Center, SCAR was presented the Anti-Defamation Team Harmony Award (as one of only five schools in Massachusetts). The group met and had a picture taken with the First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton.

SCAR also received a citation from the Massachusetts State Senate.

SCAR officer Crystal Ballou received the prestigious Anti-Defamation League Golden Award, and member Chris O'Malley won a first place award in an essay contest, sponsored by the North Attleboro Human Rights Commission, pertaining to anti-racial activities.

SCAR now boasts over 300 members. Other officers who worked hard to make SCAR successful over the past two years are Katie Fisher and Lauren Carey.

Meet the Press

The Galadriel staff produces their magazine of student literary and artistic works.

Some of our staff members really stood out, working hard towards the production of this year's magazine. Justin Reynolds worked hard on the layout, Adrienne Janelle and Jeremy Schwartz handled our business affairs, and Samantha Einhorn dedicated herself to editing. Colleen Gauthier organized Galadriel papers and Dan Barie was our computer genius.

Alisa Zuniga, Steph Burns, Bill Antonitis (and his mom) and Jessica Toto added invaluable help with ranking the poems. This year, we would also like to thank our freshmen staff consisting of Linsay Rogers, Hanna Herman, and Mohammed Alam, whose hard work was especially important to this publication.

Math Works

Math League adds more members, trying to reach the top of their division.

Once a month, the Math League met to take a test. The tests consisted of six logic and math related questions, each more difficult than the one before it. There was a time limit of thirty minutes for each test, with a total of six tests. After the tests are corrected, the top five scores for each month count toward the total. Our school uses this total to compete with the other high schools in the county.

At the end of the year, awards were given to the hightset scoring Senior and Junior. Andy Gibbs scored the highest from the Senior class while Brian Vigorito represented the Juniors.

The Science Committee strives to help students develop a love of science.

The Science Committee Club had a very productive year. We participated in a number of volunteer activities that helped promote science education in North Attleboro. The Science Committee sparked environmental awareness by recycling aluminum cans and plastic soda bottles. Cans and bottles were collected from recycle receptacles that were placed in designated areas around the high school. During the football season, we raised money by setting up a concession stand at home games and sold blowpops, gum, and lollipops. In January, club members were trained to serve as science fair judges and then helped judge the St. Mary-Sacred Heart Science Fair. In May and June we built and painted bird houses. Club members donated the birdhouses to elementary school students and helped promote environmental awareness of birds. Throughout the year, many members served as tutors at the Science and Technology Center and tutored students from the junior and senior high schools. Also, in collaboration with the Science and Technology Center, club members sponsored and presented a Summer Microbiology Workshop for junior high students. At the end of the year "get together" in June, the club visited the Museum of Science.

The Video Club shoots for the highschool stars.

Quiet on the set . . . in 5-4-3-2-1 . . . ACTION!!! We certainly had plenty of action this year. Starting with a beautiful new studio thanks to Cox Cable, and finishing the year with a great trip to NBC Studios in New York City, the year was full of highlights.

Lead by a loyal group of seniors, David Hodgman, Jeff Wise, Meg Lush, Jen Fitzpatrick, and David Fobert, our group produced a variety of shows ranging from a monthly show for the Council on Aging, called "Seniorities", a live show, "Northern Exposure," each Friday morning, a monthly school committee meeting, all the Drama productions, and on and on. This was definitely an ACTION packed year.

Our trip to New York was a definite highlight with a tour of Radio City Music Hall as well as a visit to NBC where we visited several studios. Seeing the Saturday Night Live set was indeed a thrill for all, but our side trips to Saks 5th Avenue, St. Patrick's Cathedral and last but not least shopping at F.A.O. Schwartz made the trip a one of a kind.

Shirt Tales

The Latin Club ends the year with new shirts and a "Deus Meus."

The Latin Club started off with a record number of members. The Senior class held up the offices with Carrie Laskey as president, Liz Andrews as vice president, Missy Andrews as treasurer, and Kim Chabot as secretary. The first event of the school year, the bake sale, provided free field trips to MIT and Holy Cross for the many club members who attended. While at Holy Cross, the 3rd year Latin students brought home a 2nd place trophy at the annual Latin competition. This year's Latin classes also excelled on the National Latin Exam, bringing home medals and awards.

The Latin Club also held the annual slave raffle which provided everyone a good time. We ended the year with Latin club t-shirts with the quote "Fidem Scit." (He knows the faith). The Latin club ended on an enthusiastic note, ready to pass off the offices and activities to energetic and growing classes.

The Newlywed Game

North Attleboro High School marries off another happy couple.

"I Derrek, take you Amy to be my lawfully wedded wife." At this year's mock wedding, the Justice of the Peace, Missy Otis, married Mr. and Mrs. Derrek and Amy (Daniels) Burr. Stacey Philibert and Lisa Napalitano served as the Maid of Honor and Bridesmaid while Bryan Everett assisted Derrek as best man. Greg Bowen ushered everyone into the ceremony. Bill Bristol and Sheri Gonostalski were the father and mother of the bride while Val Boyer gave her son away to be wed.

The Adult Living class provided the beautiful decorations, complete with a floral archway. Boulevard Bridal and Robert's Formals outfitted the wedding. Kelly Johnson completed the ceremony with a song. After the wedding, the guests enjoyed food made by the Foods class and a cake designed by Mrs. Young.

Built to Last

The Student Council works hard to build a fun and interesting school.

Hours upon hours of meetings, organizing, and fundraising was the key to the success of Student Council this year. The members of Student Council went to a seminar at Attleboro High School, hosted by S.E. MASS S.C. The program contained many workshops that all focused on the theme, "Where's Waldo," where over 200 students from Student Councils all over the state participated in many activities about "ice-breaking."

Student Council also transformed the cafeteria into an ocean floor, where fathers and daughters danced the night away to the theme of "Under the Sea."

Organizing the blood drive took hours of careful planning and organizing. The blood drive was a huge success. The Student Council reached the goal of 50 donors, and actually surpassed it. There were a total of 76 donors.

Student Council also organized the idea of a "Teacher Appreciation Day." Each day for a week, Student Council baked goodies and put them in the teachers' rooms, where they were greatly appreciated. The students voted for a teacher that they thought deserved special recognition. The students voted by ballot in the cafeteria and the teacher who won received a little gift of appreciation. The Student Council also spent countless lunches in the cafeteria, selling tickets and lollipops for many functions and holidays.

Student Council also held a fundraiser to support Cystic Fibrosis. Students could buy a sticker for a dollar, and put it on their hat. They could wear their hat for the day and all proceeds went to Cystic Fibrosis.

If not for the outstanding advisor of Student Council, Mrs. Caldwell, none of the success could have been possible. Because of their success this year, the Student Council members were treated to a great breakfast held at Bliss Bros. to end another successful year of fundraising for charities and scholarships.

Whether leading classes in exercise, encouraging reluctant students, giving individual instruction, or refining spirited games, the leaders were always at center stage. Their help was appreciated by the physical education staff.

Learning to work with students and teachers of all levels and interests became valuable experience as they honed leadership skills.

Andrea Kurrle and Meghan Connor supervised a nearly flawless fieldtrip. Volleyball, wiffleball, and a scavenger hunt provided entertainment and disaster was avoided when Mr. Estey provided the charcoal no one had remembered!

Andrew Childs was selected MVP of volleyball. Chad Flickinger and Val Boyer were the standouts in wiffleball. On a more serious note, Kathryn Ring was selected physical education leader of the year.

Writer's Realm

Making its debut at NAHS, the Poetry Club begins its run as a promising new group.

The North Attleboro High School Poetry Club is in its first year of existence. We had our first meeting in mid October and have had one almost every month since. We, the young poets, wanted a club where we could meet, read, discuss poetry, and have fun. We felt it would be a good way to motivate young writers.

During the course of the meetings, we had "poetry challenges" which were topics or phrases we wanted poets to expand on. Most of all, though, we had fun!

The club would be non-existent without Mr. Benson; he is, after all, the person who helped pitch the idea to Mr. Whitty.

One Step Beyond

National Honor Society members go beyond the call of duty.

Whether working at the annual craft fair or cheering on a buddy at the Special Olympics, National Honor Society students took an extra step for the school and community. Carrie Laskey and Matt Manoogian shared the position of president this year. Together with the other officers, Mark Vandette, Pat Burke, Chad Flickinger, and Bart Walkins, they planned many activities for the Honor Society.

The annual craft fair went very well this year, as crafts and food were sold at the High School. The students also sponsored two food drives, in the winter and Spring. In March, new Seniors and Juniors were inducted into the Honor Society, bringing the number of members to over 50.

With the addition of the new members, the Honor Society planned new activities. Volunteers spent two days selling yearbook ads around town, bringing in thousands of dollars. They treated the teachers to a breakfast and helped out at the Special Olympics. In June, the Juniors assisted with graduation as the Seniors led the line of graduates.

Over all, the Honor Society had a very productive year. Thank you to Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Heile for your support and guidance.

Flames of Knowledge; Monica Pai and Mark Roland are inducted into the NHS.

Sales girl: Kim Carvalho volunteers at the Craft Fair.

North Pride: Mark Vandette helps Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Boyer sell North cheerleader bears.

Burke's Law: Pat Burke inducts Josh Gagne into the National Honor Society.

The Academic Emmys

Teachers award the students for hard work and high grades.

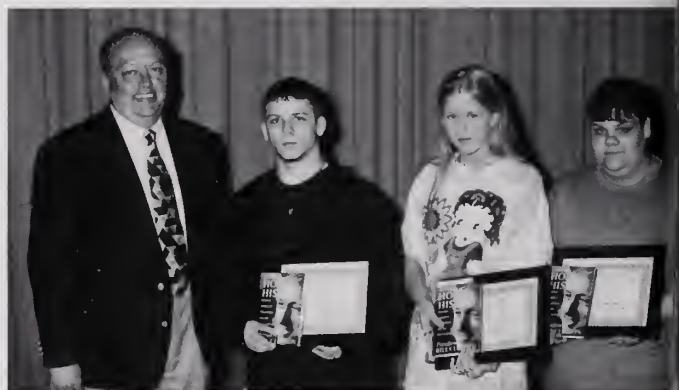

On May 7, 1998, honor roll students, award winners and Seniors gathered in the auditorium for the Academic Awards Assembly. Sponsored by the National Honor Society the Assembly celebrates students who have excelled in school. Honor Society copresident Matt Manoogian welcomed everyone and then presented Mr. Whitty who announced Valedictorian, Joe Hastings and Salutatorian Dave Reed. In addition to the honor of Valedictorian, Joe captured a National Merit Scholar award, Tandy Technology Award, and excellence in band, among others. Junior Brian Vigorito also won diverse awards in Math, Science, and Latin in addition to the Harvard Book award. Juniors Courtney McCormick and Mark Roland earned the Smith and Brown book awards respectively.

DAR named Katie Fisher Good Citizen and Student

Council recognized her with an Outstanding Service award. Liz Andrews, Keri Boynes, Meg Lush, and Carey Perkoski accepted a 1st place award for the Northern Light yearbook. Numerous students won excellence in individual classes including Pat Burke for Physical Education, Tiffany Corliss for Creative Writing, Keri Boynes for French, Courtney McCormick for Spanish and Matt LaFratta for U.S. History. Beth Mobbs stood out in art and painting while Lynn Amara excelled in drawing. Andrew Sherman won awards in Computer Applications and accounting. Ken Opdycke and Mike Tarselli were recognized for music. After Ms. Cobb announced the new Thespian inductees and Science Fair participants were named, Matt listed the names of Highest Honor students, completing the ceremony.

All in the Family

Fathers and daughters dance the night away at the annual Father Daughter Dance.

This year, at the "Under the Sea" Father Daughter Dance, the girls and their dads danced through an ocean of bubbles. Although the attendance was low, those who came enjoyed good food and music. After a chicken dinner, everyone swarmed to the freshman pit to dance to new and old tunes. Stopping every once in a while for a drink or a chat, the girls and their dads danced into the night. As the night began to wind down, the music slowed down and the girls enjoyed a last dance with their fathers.

Party of Five: Kirstin Roland, Jen Siewers, Tammy Clark, Missy Novick, and Keri Boynes enjoy the dance.

As time goes by: The Senior girls look stylish at their last Father Daughter Dance.

Entertainment Tonight: Alissa Tedesco boogies with friends.

Like father, like daughter: Lauren Humphrey finds the time to talk with her dad.

Dinner time: Jessica Nicholas enjoys her salad.

Fun with Bubbles: The girls create the Under the Sea mood.

Girls in Black: Caroline Bushey and Lyn Ziter leave their dads behind while they head back to the dance floor.

Perfect Attendance Award Winners: Meg Lush and Carey Perkosi show loyalty to their dads by going all four years.

Say Cheese: Missy Nelson gets close to her dad.

The Joy of Eating: Junior girls and dads enjoy their meal.

Fashion Conscious: Beth Heile helps Lauren Bushey fix her dress.

Father Knows Best: Fathers discuss the art of raising daughters.

Masterpiece Theater

With costumes made, lights ready and lines memorized, the Drama Club dazzled the audiences with their masterpieces.

The North Attleboro Theater Co. came out on top again this year. The fall play "Little Women", showed off true talent for both veterans and newcomers to the High School stage. The dramatic classic went over well despite crashing umbrella stands. Seniors Becky Powell, Jess Uhlman, and sophomore Courtney Bottomley took up the director's reins for the annual One-Act play festival. Courtney's "The Idiot and the Oddity" brought both Best Actor and Best Actress awards, given to Mike Tarselli and Meghan Connor. She also won a directing award for herself. But, it was Uhlman's "Removing the Glove" that left the crowd roaring and earned her and her cast the Best Play Award.

In the Spring, baggy pants and hairclips were exchanged for leather jackets and poodle skirts for the production of Grease. Finally, before students could enjoy their "Summer Lovin," an unbelievable 29 students were inducted into the International Thespian Society. Despite the loss of many seniors, the N.A. Theater Co. looks like it still has a cast of members superior enough to knock 'em dead again next year.

Face the Music

Band and Chorus members accent school functions with harmony and song.

The Music Department enjoyed another successful year. In the Fall, marching band performed a show based on the musical Miss Saigon, and even got to perform in the Super Bowl when North beat Swampscott. Led by drum majors Mike Tarselli and Jeremy Schwartz, they also marched in several parades, including a Halloween parade and the North Attleboro Memorial parade.

1997 concluded with one of the most successful holiday concert in years, featuring the chorus, select chorus, jazz band, and concert band.

We welcomed Mr. Brian Battles who joined Mr. Britton as the second Mr. "B" in the department. He led the concert band and jazz band during the year and started a new group called jazz combo, featuring 8 of the best jazz players in the school.

Chorus numbers boomed, with 90 people joining chorus. Select chorus was filled with 25 of the most talented vocalists in the school and performed a very difficult spring concert consisting of 6 professional level selections. Chorus also enjoyed a day working with alumnus Robert Opdycke, who returned with his vocal group, the "Veritones" from Harvard University. He led both choruses through a day of clinics and concerts and was a guest conductor in the Spring concert. His younger brother, Senior Ken Opdycke, arranged and conducted a song for select chorus as well.

The highlight of the year was a trip with the Drama Department to New York City in May. Two musicals (Ragtime and Chicago), together with tours of Lincoln Center and Radio City Music Hall, were enjoyed by over 80 students.

Poised and ready: Siobhan Kibbe waits for her cue.

Music Man: Senior Kristian Lazzaro aids the chorus with his famous singing talents.

Multi-talented: Joe Hastings plays his instrument after his validictory address.

Christmas stories: The Grinch steals the show.

Early Edition

After months of work and dedication, the yearbook exceeds everyone's hopes.

This year's yearbook began during the summer when we picked the theme "Changing Channels." Soon, the work was divided up. Liz Andrews took the underclassmen section while Keri Boynes designed the Clubademic section. Meg Lush dominated the sports section and Carey Perkosi mastered the Senior Section.

At our first group meeting, many anxious students volunteered to help make the yearbook memorable.

After that, the Editors-in-chief called people to smaller meetings to choose and identify pictures and write captions.

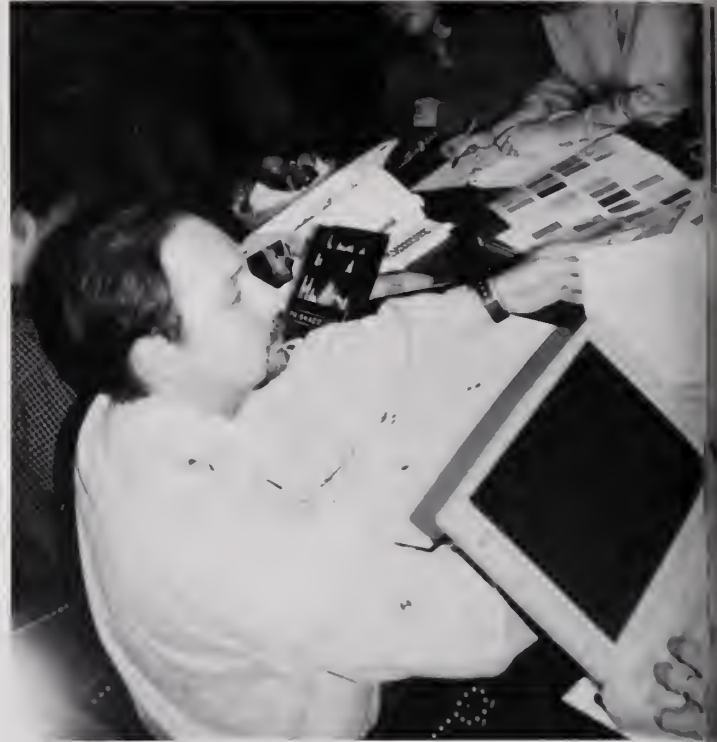

In October, we met with an artist who helped design our cover. Next came the challenging part, choosing TV show headlines.

Despite some long hours at the end, the yearbook staff enjoyed a fun and productive year. Thank you to all who helped us create our book.

Entertainment Tonight

Senior Reception: We could have danced all night!

Our memorable Senior week started off with the annual Senior reception, held on June third at the Mansfield Holiday Inn. A dinner of chicken and potatoes was served at 6:30, with a dessert of chocolate mousse. The first part of the evening was designated for only students and class advisors. We took this opportunity to eat our dinner and mingle with friends.

Our parents arrived at 8:00, and at this time we formed a receiving line on both sides of the hallway. Parents walked by and individually congratulated us on our accomplishments. After the parents made their way through the line, it was the students turn to go through to hug or share memories with each other. Some tears began to flow.

When the receiving line was completed, the music started pumping. Almost everyone, including some parents, had a blast on the dance floor. Everyone had their turn in the spotlight as some party animals jumped on stage and even stole the microphone from the DJ.

All Smiles: John Higgins and Jodi Harrop share a slow dance.

The Boy is Mine: Christine T and Stacey Philibert can't get enough of Mike Campbell.

Kiss the Boys: Who's had their lips on Andrew Poland and Chris O'Brien?

Hold Me Tight: Bridget Muln doesn't want to let go of Chris O'Brien.

he's Company: Pat Kelleher, Florin and Mike Campbell will remember their Senior year.

Up Close and Personal: Dan Luzon and Meg Lush enjoy the Senior reception.

Congratulations!: Mrs. Burke acknowledges the achievements of the Senior class.

Gettin' Jiggy With It: Members of the Senior class bust a move on the dance floor.

In the Family: Dave Reed and Connor, Kate Ring and Andrea Kurrle take a breather.

Leaders: Class Officers Meghan Connor, Kate Ring and Andrea Kurrle take a breather.

Friends Forever: Elena Fertitta, Lani Eidam and Jess Garfield smile for another memorable picture.

Happy Days

Senior Cookout, a fun or funny place for a dedication!

Although it was a bit cold and windy, this year's Senior cookout was a memorable one. The class of 1998 first helped themselves to hot dogs, hamburgers and chips served by none other than principal Whitty, vice-principal Pickering, class advisors Mr. Jutras, Mr. Vito and Mrs. Caldwell. While everyone was busy eating, the yearbook editors dedicated this year's yearbook to Mr. Vito, since he could not attend informal class day.

After everyone's appetites were satisfied, the Seniors decided to play volleyball. Soon there was a boys vs girls team, each playing for bragging rights. In fact, the Seniors were so engrossed in their own games that the faculty didn't get a chance to play. However, everyone had a great time.

Hit it with Your Best Shot: Chris O'Brien almost knocks over the net on his spike.

Serve It Up: Scott Kipp launches his serve over the net.

Boys vs Girls: The boys challenged the girls to a heated volleyball game.

What are you Waiting For?: Joe George prepares to serve to the opposite team.

Ready Position: Ken Scanzio looks ready for anything that comes his way.

Thirsty?: Josh Aransky and Andrew Poland need to quench their thirst.

Cool Guys: Matt Manoogian, Jay LeBlanc, Sean Dailey and Jim McGowan wait for a game to get started.

Lichtime: Ally Bush, Shelly Merigold and Lindsey Rocha sample the food.

Chow Time: These members of the Senior class wasted no time getting their lunches.

Unforgettable

Class Day/Class Night

At the beginning of third period, the class of 1998 filed into the gym for informal class day. With the entire school present, everyone listened as Andrea Kurrle, Meghan Connor and Kate Ring read the class history. The class officers also read the class will, where many memories and inside jokes were shared.

At the conclusion of the class will, the yearbook Editors-in-Chief, Liz Andrews, Meg Lush, Keri Boynes and Carey Perkoski dedicated the yearbook. This year's dedication went to Mr. David Vito. Mr. Vito was awarded for his hard work and dedication.

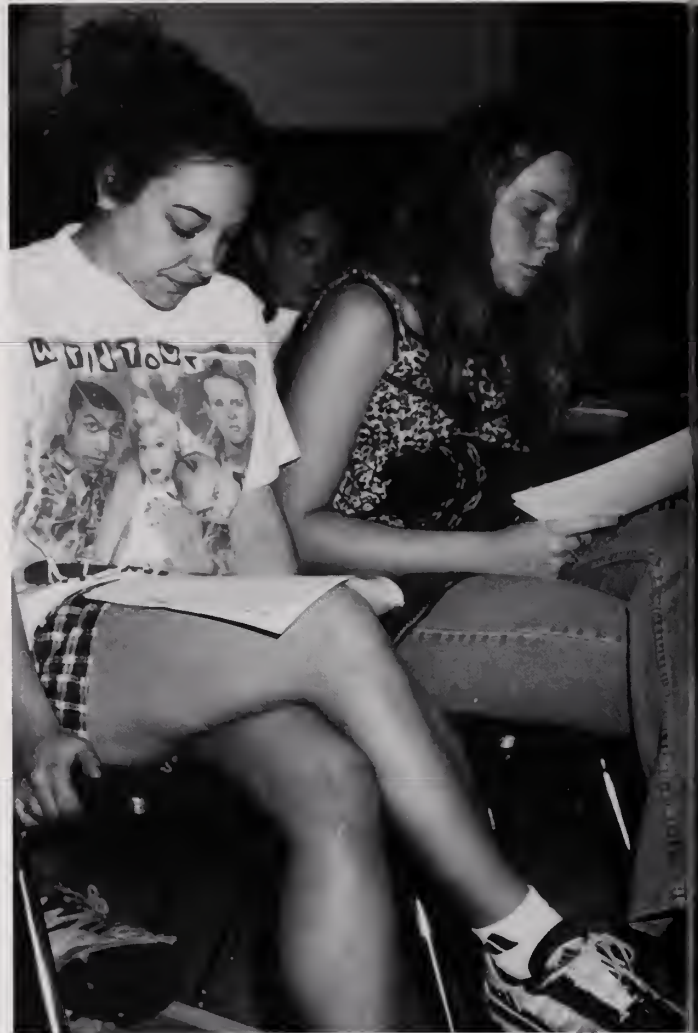

The informal class day ended with the Senior slide show, which was presented by Meg Lush and Jen Fitzpatrick. Everyone enjoyed the memorable pictures displayed on the screen.

Rachel Flynn and Elena Fertitta started off class night with the singing of the National Anthem. This was followed by numerous award presentations. Three essayists, Michelle Malette, Andrew Phillips and Kim Sebastiao, were chosen to speak to the class of 1998.

As the night came to an end, a group of Seniors sang the class ode, lyrics by Samantha Einhorn, music by Ken Opdycke. Following this song, the parents were invited to stay for the showing of the Senior slide show. The next time the class of 1998 would be together would be at graduation.

Hunt and Peck: Jen Difiore and Michelle DeLosa search through the events of the assembly to find their lines in the will page.

I've Heard that Song: Seniors in the chorus sing the melody to "The Long and Winding Road".

Studying Hard: Mark Vandette doesn't realize he is out of school as he is deep in thought over the class will.

The Real World: Meghan Connor elaborates on the new responsibilities for the class of 1998 next year.

Reflection: Jen Bowes templates her years at NAHS.

The Tomorrow People: Andrew Phillips shares ideas of preparing for the future in his essay.

The Last Hurrah: Justin Shockro, Jamie Barber and Liz Andrews pose for a final picture together.

What's Happening?! This will be one of the last times that Jody Lonergan and Bree Johnson will walk through the gym.

Amic Dedicators: The yearbook editors bring the year to a close with the dedication to Mr. [unclear].

Don't Have a Cow, Man: Bart Walkins can hardly control his excitement while accepting his award.

Our Voices: Dave Fobert and Carl Florin read along as the class will is presented.

Changing Channels

Graduation: Give me the remote! I'm on the move.

Even though rain forced the graduation ceremony on June 7 to be held indoors, nothing could dampen the spirits of the class of 1998. After a moving speech by Mr. Whitty in the auditorium, the Seniors were ready to march into the gym. The class soon realized that Senior year flew by all too quickly, just like everyone had told them it would.

Class Vice-President Meghan Connor began the ceremony by reciting the Pledge of Allegiance. Then, Rachel Flynn and Elena Fertitta sang the National Anthem. Class President, Andrea Kurrle welcomed everyone, then proceeded to introduce the Salutatorian, David Reed. David's speech, entitled "Feet in Your Shoes", stressed the importance of seizing the day and making the most of each moment. Members of the chorus then sang "The Long and Winding Road".

Joseph Hastings took the podium to deliver his Valedictory speech entitled "X-Ray Crystallography of Human Nature", which focused on our own prejudices. The band then gave their rendition of "Jesus Christ Superstar".

The commencement speaker, Dr. Timothy Conroy, reminded the class to keep persisting in life. The graduation proceeded with many academic awards presented by the class officers. Mr. Whitty awarded thousands of dollars in scholarships and Mr. Beaupre presented the athletic cups to Kim Sebastiao and Mark Vandette.

Now, everyone was awaiting the presentation of the diplomas. Each student walked across the stage to receive their diploma from Mr. Matthew DiMarco, School Committee Chairman. After the class ode, "Roadmap", was sung, the class of 1998 moved their tassels from left to right, turning them into alumni of NAHS. It was now time to change the channel to a different station.

"Feet in Your Shoes": Dave Reed delivers his Salutatory address.

Persistence: Dr. Timothy Conroy urges us to always persist.

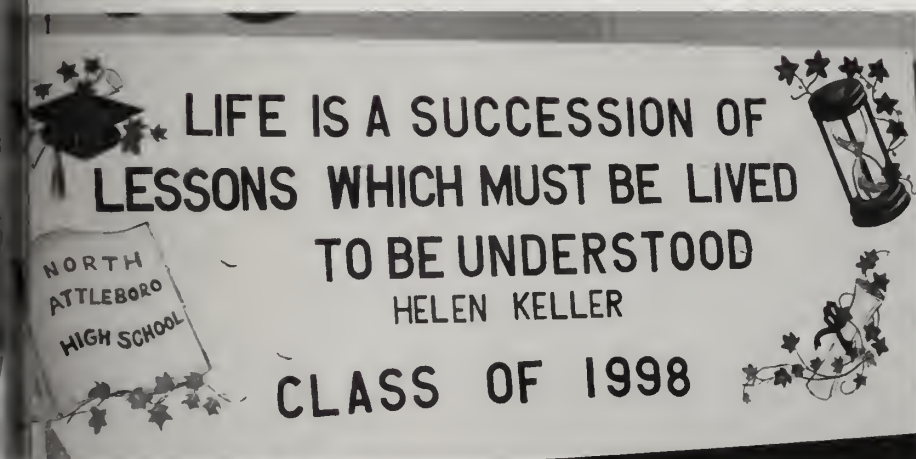

Singing Sweetly: Members of the chorus grace the crowd with a song.

I'm Done!: Keri Boynes smiles in acknowledgement of all her hard work.

What Are You Looking At?: Major is not amused with the graduation ceremony.

MA: Someone's missing next to Jodi Harrop.

Oh Say Can You See . . . : Elena
Fertitta and Rachel Flynn sing the National Anthem.

ESPY Awards: Kim Sebastiao and Mark Vandette pose with their athletic cups.

Bogie Woogie Bugle Boy:
Niki Yamamoto makes NAHS proud.

Valedictorian: Joseph Hastings delivers his remarkable speech.

NAHS Alumni: North Seniors signify that they have graduated.

Leaders of the Pack: Andrea Kurre and Meghan Connor lead the Seniors into the gym.

Finally!: Meg Lush can't wait to graduate.

Stampede: Members of the class of '98 shuffle into the gym.

Family Matters: The Vandette family celebrates Mark's athletic achievements.

And the Band Played: Tony Martins, Jen Sargent and Rachel Finn play a song.

I Pledge Allegiance: Vice President Meghan Connor addresses the audience.

A Job Well Done: Mr. Whitty presents the Salutatory award to Dave Reed.

Standing Proud: Faculty and family pose with Kate Ring.

Welcome Everyone: President Alrea Kurrle greets the crowd.

Good Job: Beth Mobbs receives her art award from Meghan Connor.

Changing Channels

As TV viewers surfed through 500 channels, NAHS students flipped through 21 sports and 26 activities, not to mention rigorous academic schedules and possible jobs. The average student at North might switch his own channels throughout a day from school to sports practice, to a SADD meeting, or drama rehearsal. Evident by our 1st place yearbook award, our All Sports Trophy, superbowl award, drama productions, service awards, an international science fair winner, and academic honors, the class of 1998 proved its ability to change channels successfully.

The 1998 yearbook editors and our hardworking adviser, Mrs. Lush, wish to thank Jostens, Dan Smith, and Joe Geoffrey, from Chestnut Hill Studios. We would also like to thank Mrs. Barber for answering our endless questions. Without the support of Mrs. Lush and these other people, our yearbook would not exceed our expectations.

The Seniors now find themselves changing networks from high school to colleges, careers, and military duties. Stemming from our past triumphs, we are certain that the class of 1998 will continue to advance in our technological world successfully.

The 1998 yearbook editors spent many more hours than you can count trying to freeze our memories as reruns to watch as life rapidly changes channels.

Best Wishes!

Dance Fever!

Senior Prom

For the very first time, the Senior prom was held in April instead of February. We were very lucky to have ideal weather on the night of April 21, so that we could dance away the evening at the Biltmore in Providence.

The Queen and King, Andrea Kurrle and Mark Vandette, lead us in a dance to the theme song "On the Turning Away", by Pink Floyd. After our ride in the famous glass elevator, we mingled with fellow classmates before filtering into the grand ballroom.

At the closing of the night, John Santos gave a memorable speech to the Senior class. From the heat of the dance floor, the girls kicked off their shoes and the boys stripped down to their muscle shirts.

After the last song of "Stairway to Heaven", the class of 1998 went their separate ways to party into the wee hours. We will always remember this magical night.

Three Musketeers: Jim McGowan, Chris Tosti and Matt Allen can't seem to keep their shirts on.

What a Cute Couple! Jen Difore and Rob Sawyer have fun dancing throughout the night.

Kodak Moment: Ross Downing and Emily Gordon share a memorable dance.

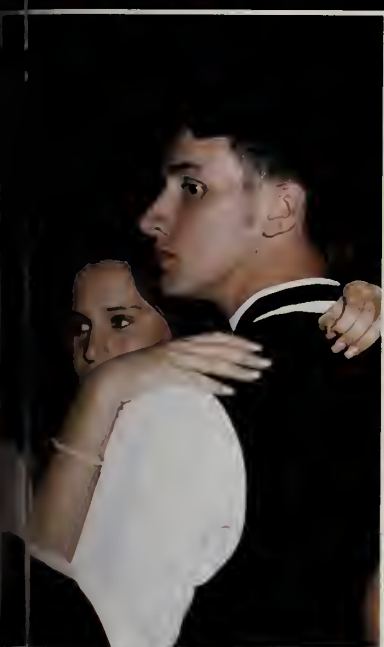

Wallflowers: Amy Daniels and Derek Schofield seem to be socializing more than dancing.

Say Cheese! Jen Angelo and her date enjoy the meal at the Biltmore.

What's so Funny?: Can Jamie Barber and Juhui Matkowski let us in on the joke?

Royal Couple: Queen Andrea Kurrfe and King Mark Vandette lead everyone in a slow dance to the theme song.

Unforgettable: Beth Hebert and T.J. Stewart won't forget their time together at the Senior prom.

So Many Girls, So Little Time: Andrew Childs is embraced by Meg Lush and Colleen McGahan

NAHS Paparazzi: Seniors catch the royal court on film.

What are you looking at?: Kelly Robertson and Jay Leblanc seem to be mesmerized by something on the dance floor.

Looking sharp: Michael Default enjoys his salad before the dancing begins.

Laugh In: Shelly Merigold finds Jeremy Schwartz hilarious.

A night to remember: Lauren Carey and Dave Reed share a special moment.

Surrounded: Junior Chris O'Malley is encircled by Senior girls.

The Single Guy: Chris Petrarca seems to be missing his date.

On the Turning Away: Kate Ring and Kyle Vaneisen dance to the theme song.

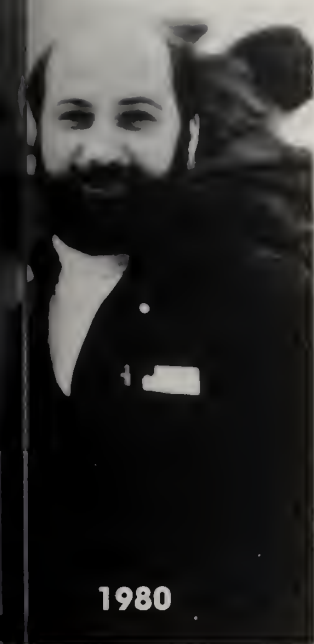

Senior Royalty: Colleen McGahan accepts her rose from Jutras.

Having a Blast: Colleen Sanford and Geoff Shamp dance the night away.

Yearbook Dedication

Mr. David Vito

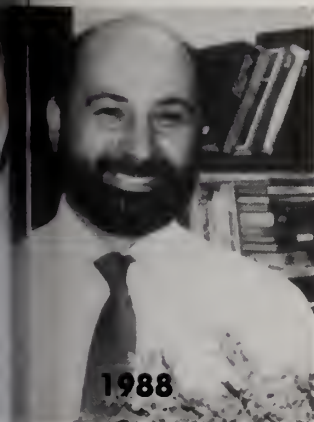

This teacher has served North Attleboro schools for over twenty years. He has amassed countless awards during his tenure and has been known to doze off during whale watches. He brings laughs to his students' faces with his good sense of humor and brakes up fights with his patented "No hugging or kissing allowed" routine. He helps to convey his love for biology through the school's best diagrams and has been known to grant bonus points for a carefully placed "I luv Bio" note.

This teacher's greatest gift to his student's has been his dedication to science fairs. He has sent students to competitions around the United States, and even to Europe, backed by his never-ending encouragement and support. He has been known to spend his school vacations, Christmas Eve included, working in a lonely lab with students just days before the school science fair. I'm sure you think the "Big Dig" is in Boston, but we know that we have one here in North Attleboro. This teacher has taken students on an archaeological search and has found fossils that will be permanently displayed here at the high school.

This year the State Education Commissioner, Robert Antonucci, visited our school to award a $25,000 gift from the Milken Family Foundation. 150 teachers from 35 states were recognized for their accomplishments which often go unnoticed or are under-appreciated.

We the class of 1998 dedicate our yearbook to Mr. David Vito. His dedication to his students and endless supply of teaching tricks make his biology classes fun and interesting, even when memorizing the steps in the Krebs cycle or meiosis. His commitment to science fair serves as a golden example of all that he teaches. Thank-you Mr. Vito for all of the memories.

Dateline

The 1998 Olympics in Japan featured the Girls' Hockey team bringing home the GOLD.

President Bill Clinton was the first Democratic president in 60 years to be elected to a second term. His vice president, Al Gore, was considered a very powerful vice president and was the president's closest adviser.

The President's daughter left home in September. Chelsea Clinton went off to college some 3,000 miles away from home; Stanford University, in Palo Alto, Calif..

Mother Teresa was among the most well-known and highly respected women in the world in the later half of the twentieth century. She founded the Missionaries of Charity in Calcutta, India. She died at age 87, September 5, 1997.

Diana's sons William, 15 and Harry, 12, stood in attendance joined by their father, Prince Charles and her brother, Earl Spencer, as her body was taken into Westminster Abbey. Millions packed the city for Diana's funeral.

Britain and the world bid farewell to Diana, Princess of Wales, on a sparkling September morning with a grand tribute rich in pageantry. Since her death in a car crash in Paris a week before, the country had witnessed an astonishing outpouring of grief.

John Denver, whose optimistic songs catapulted him to fame during the 1970's, died instantly when his experimental plane crashed into Monterey Bay in Calif., Oct. 12, 1997. He is best known for "Rocky Mountain High" and "Sunshine on My Shoulders"

Attorney General Janet Reno was the first woman attorney general of the United States. She was first nominated by Pres. Clinton in 1993, and she was reappointed in 1997.

U.S. Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright was the most visible and active secretary of state since Henry Kissinger. She was the highest ranking woman in the history of the U.S. government, and she was admired respected by the diplomatic corps.

Sonny Bono, Representative to Congress from Calif., may be better known as the ex-husband of CHE -and his great song "I Got You, Babe". He died in a freak ski accident, winter '98.

1997-1998

The Dave Matthews Band has demonstrated over the course of three albums and several years of extensive touring that it has staying power on the record charts. The band appeared in Puerto Rico Friday June 5th, 1998.

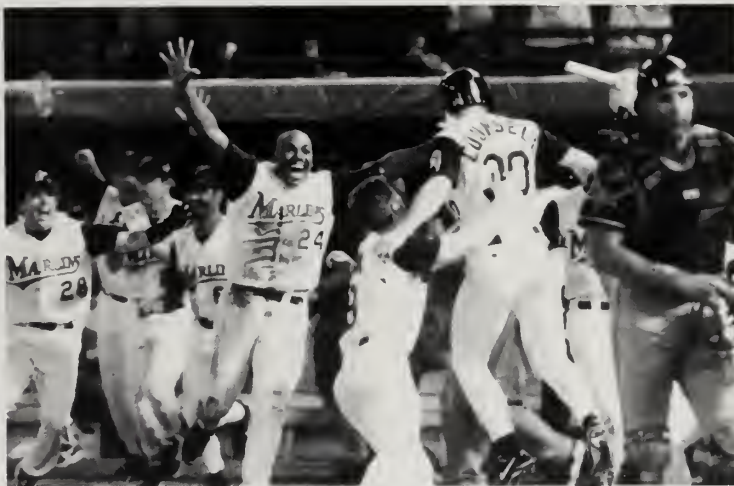

The brothers Hanson became the newest kids on the pop charts. The band's infectious single "MMMBop" and their album "Middle of Nowhere" flooded the airwaves around the world.

Fiona Apple spent more than a year on Billboard's best-selling chart. "My album is called 'Tidal', because all this success has hit me like a tidal wave, but also because tidal refers to ebbing and flowing and that's really what life is."

Shawn Colvin is a great folk-pop singer and songwriter. She sings immaculately conceived melodies. Her new single "Johnny Come Home" is a bona fide hit.

The Florida Marlins became major league baseball's world champions in 1997, beating the Cleveland Indians in the World Series. Just five years old, the Marlins tied the Indians in the 9th inning of the 7th game and went on to win it all in the 11th inning.

The 11,000 residents of the Caribbean island of Montserrat witnessed first hand the devastation that a very active volcano can cause. The volcano belched ash and small rocks over several days in Sept. and forced more than two thirds of the population to evacuate the island.

The WNBA — Women's National Basketball Association—completed its inaugural season with the Houston Comets defeating the New York Liberty for the championship. And as the season came to a close, the WNBA announced that the eight-team league would grow to 10 teams in 1998.

Changing CHANNELS

What's new this year? The yearbook staff would like to extend a grateful hand to the many businesses who contributed money and ads to this year's 1998 Northern Light Yearbook. The yearbook's $26,000 budget would not be possible without the aid of these local businesses. The National Honor Society contributed two days to the yearbook while promoting ad sales and bringing new businesses into the ads section.

The yearbook staff decided to introduce this year's ad sales with TV ads. This idea follows along with this year's theme "Changing Channels". Popular TV stars are advertised within the TV to represent the people we will remember in 1998.

Thank you Mrs. Crosta

After 26 years of dedicated service in the front office at N.A.H.S. Mrs. June Crosta retired this year.

At Formal Class Day the school student body as well as staff rose to give Mrs. Crosta a standing "O" for all the times she checked us in "tardy excused". She certainly knew how to keep law and order in the office and will be missed. Mr. Whitty gave her a beautiful bouquet of roses after Mr. Pickering accompanied her down through center court. At a reception held at Luciano's, Mrs. Barber arranged for the staff to give her a big send-off. There wasn't a dry eye in sight as Mr. Pickering spoke about Mrs. Crosta's "look" that could freeze many a student in their tracks. We, the Yearbook staff, wish Mrs. Crosta many "tardy excused" in her future, and not a single school bell to answer to.

Class Will 1998

Jennifer Alam — All my family and true friends all the hugs and kisses in the world. Thank you for being my life line!

Matthew Allen — Shagon wagon rides for all my friends.

Elizabeth Andrews — Jamie and Justin. Thanks for all the great times.

Melissa Andrews — Jodi, Erica, and Casey, a true friendship and thousands of memories.

Joshua Aransky — Sarah: distance makes the heart grow fonder, but being close is better.

Neil Bailey — To Kelly I leave our picture in the eighth grade yearbook.

Kathy Barton — Katie, Tim and Dave all my love, best wishes. I'll miss you.

Jaime Berg — Greg, I'll see you in Brooklyn at 31, all my love and friendship.

Nicole Bonneau — To all my friends, don't forget all the fun we had at the jumping spot.

Sarah Bonome — To all my buds, thanks for everything, I'll miss you guys.

Gregory Bowen — Valerie, my heart.

Jen Bowes — To all my closest friends, you know who you are. I love you and I'll miss you. Good luck next year.

Sarah Boyden — To all my friends, a week of fun in New York and good luck next year. I'll miss you.

Tanya Brouillette — Many are the memories of the lake to all my friends.

Derek Brown — The guys; endless times of good old fashioned anarchy.

Jennie Bruckner — J.P.,
J.H., and C.M., the best of luck in whatever you do.

Patrick Burke — Best of luck to Mom, Kelly, and Auntie Jean in all your future years here at NAHS.

Justin Burns — I leave
Shannon all my love.
